Decision

With the consent of the parties' counsel and per our advice we are deciding as follows: the hearing of the appeal shall be postponed to a date that shall be scheduled. The Respondents shall grant Petitioner 1 a class B/1 temporary residence visa which includes a work permit in Israel for a period of one year. During the coming period, the Petitioner's counsel shall be in contact with bodies and institutes in Israel, including government ministries, local authorities and other authorities in order to attempt to find the Appellant a way to be properly rehabilitated in Israel. The Respondents shall cooperate with the Appellants' counsel insofar as necessary.

Needless to say that the Appellant himself is required to cooperate with all of the people that shall help him. We state this since the Appellant himself did not appear at the hearing today.

In 6 months from today supplementary notice shall be filed on behalf of the Appellant and the Respondents shall be entitled to respond to the said notice within 30 additional days.

Subsequently, the appeal shall be scheduled for a continuation of the hearing (before any panel of judges).

A temporary injunction is hereby issued according to which the Appellant shall not be removed from Israel pending another decision.

Issued today, 12 Tishre 5765 (27 September 2004).
